

Chances are you know what a Hotel and/or Motel are – imagine you were the person responsible for managing the whole business!

This is what Hotel or Motel Managers do – they plan and organize the running and activities of the Hotel / Motel business.

Some of the things a IT Manager might do include:

- organize and manage all of the food, drinks, room cleaning, bed and bathroom linen, staff management, sales and business development for the hotel or motel
- manage building maintenance and all running costs including electricity and gas
- keep the hotel or motel highly presented
- make sure the hotel or motel meets all legal requirements
- make sure the hotel or motel and its guests are secure

Other careers which may be interesting to you include:

Club Manager

Manage a club providing food, drink and entertainment.

You will be....

- good working in a team
- great working with a range of different people
- good at handling difficult situations
- great working with people
- good at problem solving
- great communication skills
- good organisational skills
- great at keeping accurate records

Education & Training

While you can work in this career without formal qualifications, it is a good idea to complete year 12 and undertake a diploma or higher degree in hospitality or related field..

Find more information at:

Australian Hotels Association: www.aha.org.au